

Parkinson's UK is here for everyone affected by Parkinson's, from the very beginning of their journey with the condition.

If you signpost your patients to Parkinson's UK, then everyone can benefit from having information and support, right from the start.

"If I'd known about Parkinson's UK I'd have got the right information and support."

Paul

"Every patient's needs are different. Signposting to the wealth of information available from Parkinson's UK is key."

Robin Fackrell, Consultant and Parkinson's specialist

Parkinson's UK is here for everyone affected by Parkinson's from the very beginning of their journey with the condition.

A diagnosis affects everyone differently

"I felt shocked and didn't know what to do"

"I felt overwhelmed and needed information"

"I felt worried about the future"

"I felt relieved to know what was going on"

All of these People with Parkinson's can carry on living life to the full but sometimes they need help.

Whatever your patient needs today, Parkinson's UK is here to:

1. be a listening ear and answer any questions, big and small

2. provide information on all aspects of Parkinson's

3. connect people with Parkinson's to support and activities

"I'm not on my own any more. I've got people who understand. I've got people who care." Diane
