Parkinson's Open day (Spring 2014)
Saturday 18th April (10am - 2pm)

The programme:

10:00 - A welcoming/introduction from Prof Barker as teas and coffees will be served.

10:15 - Philipp Berg (Barker lab) - 'Towards a Human Stem Cell Model for Parkinson's Disease'

10:45 - Tea/Coffee break

11:00 - Dr Manos Metzakopian (Sanger Institute) - 'Finding new therapies for Parkinson's disease by random disruption of genes'

11:30 - Dr Celine Galvagnion (Chemistry Dept, Cambridge University) - 'Protein aggregation in Parkinson's disease'

12:00 - A lunch will be provided and attendees can view posters of additional research being conducted.

1:00 - Clinical study/Information session - exhibits for viewing:
- Andrew Curran (WPC 2016 Ambassador) will say a few words about the World Parkinson's Congress in Portland (USA).
- Natalie Valle Guzman (Barker lab) will discuss the Transeuro transplantation trial
- Dr Kirsten Scott (Barker lab) will describe proposed new drug trials
- Dr Simon Stott (Barker lab) will outline the Breath testing study set to begin in September, which is partly funded by Parkinson's UK.
- Dr Romina Vuono (Barker lab) will offer the opportunity to view cells and sections of brain under the microscope.

2:00 - Close